

Postings for AHA Affiliates page (three in all; if you have room for only one, please post the Conference Announcement). Thank you!

The World History Association will hold its Twelfth Annual Conference June 27-29, 2003, at Georgia State University (GSU) in Atlanta. This year's themes are: Migration and Identity; Comparative Perspectives on Islam and Islamic Politics; and the Boundaries of World History: Chronological, Methodological, Disciplinary. Preregister by May 1 to receive a discounted registration fee and to guarantee your luncheon banquet reservation.

WHA Teaching Prize

The World History Association is now accepting submissions for its 2003 Teaching Prize (deadline April 15, 2003). The prize was developed to encourage the use of current world history research in classroom practice. The WHA seeks lesson plans either inspired by or directly related to historical scholarship published within the last ten years in books or journals like the Journal of World History. Submissions from all grade levels are welcome. For more information, write to Maggie Favretti, Chair of the WHA Teaching Prize Committee (favretti@pipeline.com), or visit <http://www.thewha.org>

World History Association & Phi Alpha Theta Student Paper Prize

The World History Association and Phi Alpha Theta History Society, Inc. are once again co-sponsoring two awards of $200 each for the best undergraduate and graduate-level world history paper composed during the current academic year. Abstracts of the winning papers will be published in the World History Bulletin. To qualify, students must be members of EITHER the WHA or Phi Alpha Theta and must have composed the paper while enrolled at an accredited college or university during 2002-2003. Papers must be no longer than thirty (30) pages. Deadline: August 15, 2003. For more information, please visit <http://www.thewha.org>